Fun Terminal Hacks for Mac

Written By: Cade Cyphers

⚙ PARTS:

- Any computer running Mac OS X (1)

Step 1 — Fun Terminal Hacks for Mac

- First, you need to open the terminal window. Click the search icon in the top right of your screen (shown as a magnifying glass), enter `terminal` and click on the only result in the "Applications" section. It should open Terminal.

- Once Terminal is open, enter this text: `say hello world`. Then press Enter. The computer should say "hello world"! If you want to make it say something else, type `say` and then what you want to hear!

Step 2

Another fun thing to enter in Terminal makes your desktop become a screensaver. Enter this text to do so: `/System/Library/Frameworks/ScreenSaver.framework/Resources/ScreenSaverEngine.app/Contents/MacOS/ScreenSaverEngine -background`

To change your desktop back to normal, close the Terminal window.

Step 3

One of the most amazing hacks plays an entire Star Wars movie in the terminal window: `telnet towel.blinkenlights.nl`

Make sure not to resize the window!

That's all the Terminal hacks I have! I hope you liked them!

This document was last generated on 2012-11-01 12:47:56 AM.